A kosher diet is one that conforms to the regulations of kashrut (Jewish dietary laws). More than 12 million consumers in the U.S. shop kosher. And with over one million Jewish Americans following a kosher diet year-round, and millions of other religions partaking in the dietary culture as well, the kosher food business is a booming 12.5 billion dollar a year industry. Research shows that sixty-two percent of people shop kosher due to their belief that these products are “safer,” than the basic food supply that is overseen by government inspection.

PreGel America’s kosher dessert ingredient solutions allow for innovative chefs to achieve the authentic, artisanal results they desire, while adhering to the dietary restrictions of a kosher diet.
